Hello,

I had hoped to reply to the consultation on-line, but the registration form is not working properly (I cannot enter my address to complete the registration).

My comments are as follows:

The amount of green space does not seem adequate for a community of 18,000 people many of whom will not have private gardens. There is no provision for a large green area found in most Cambridge neighbourhoods. The green space does not include any land for allotments safari asl could tell. The community and green spaces do not seem to link well to the river.

The plans refer to 13 storey blocks of housing. While the need to densify is understandable, this seems much higher than is typical of Cambridge. King's College chapel spires may reach that height, but they are not solid structures. Further, while it is very much to be hoped that Covid 19 will soon be history, tall accommodation blocks that rely on elevators are deeply problematic for social distancing. At the best of times, entering and exiting multi-storey blocks with young families are challenges at busy times of the day.

Kind regards,

Karen
